Speak Out...

UNFORTUNATELY, China today is a country divided into two parts: one on the island of Taiwan where the people live in freedom and enjoy prosperity; the other on the Chinese mainland where the people live under tyranny and are exploited by the Communist regime for the purpose of aggression.

But, outside of China, there is another world of Chinese who are equally concerned with the future of the land of their ancestors.

We are those Chinese. There are 16,000,000 of us scattered in every corner of the world.

We believe we have a voice too in the critical decision of the fate of China.
